The flames destroyed, in addition to the building, 1,500 barrels of oil, 300 barrels of paraffine wax, two ten-ton ice machines, six tanks of 400 barrel capacity each, and which were filled with oil and engines, boilers, dynamos and other machinery.

Argus—Continued.

LONDON, Sept. 14.—Vis. Adm. Sir John Ommanney Hopkins has been appointed to the command of the British Mediterranean squadron in room of Adm. Sir Michael Gordon Seymour, who has reached the limit age which compels him to retire. Adm. Hopkins was in 1890 naval commander-in-chief on the North Atlantic and West India station. The Mediterranean squadron is to be sent to rendezvous at Alexandria next month, when its policy are due to the change in the British policy regarding the Turkish question.

The Campaign in Maine.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 14.—The campaign which closed in this state Saturday night has been the most active known for many years. The campaign has been a long and arduous one entirely and not a settlement of any kind from one end of Maine to the other has been neglected.

The Andenes to Archdeacon Martineau.

BONN, Sept. 14.—The pope has given a farewell audience to Archdeacon Martineau, the new papal delegate to the United States.

PALMER AND BUCKNER
of PALMER & BUCKNER
of THE STEAMERS
by the Gold Diggers, Cleveland and Carlisle held the Silver Democratic Party.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 14.—The gold democrats held their notification meeting in the Auditorium, the city's new cigar store. Gen. John M. Palmer, of Kentucky, was formally notified by Senator Donaldson Caffey, of Louisiana, and Col. John P. Fellows, of New York, that they had been selected to lead the gold democrats.

"I regret that I can not accept your invitation to attend the notification meeting on Saturday evening. As a democrat, devoted to the principles of the gold standard, I would be delighted to be present on an occasion so significant, and to mingle with those who are determined that the voice of the true democracy shall not be strangled, who insist that its glorified standard shall be borne aloft as old in faithful hands."

This was the message wired from Buzzard's Bay to the Palmer-Buckner delegation meeting at the Hotel Cleveland, as read by Hon. Wm. D.
Myers. By Myers had a number of telegrams, and when he picked up the last and read the date line, "Buzzard's Bay," a cheer went up at the sight of the name of the place. No time was lost to tell that telegram.

A few on the inside knew that Mr.
Cleveland had, at the last moment, broken silence and given his adhesion to the cause of the Palmer and Buckner ticket. He had been very dreadful conductor, family injured; Mrs.
Kate Minor, arm and leg broken; Miss Vinter, internally injured; Dan McMahon, dangerously bruised; two children of Mr. McMahon, seriously injured; an unknown Italian woman, unconscious and will die.

Details of the accident are difficult to obtain, there being no telegraphic communication with the scene nearer than
